

Meet Sara

Sara Luther is a seasoned executive recruiter and the Founding Partner of Relate Search. With nearly two decades of experience under her belt, she has become known as a highly respected professional in the field of HR recruiting. Sara has a knack for building strong connections and consistently delivering exceptional results for her clients.

Throughout her career, Sara has held influential leadership roles at esteemed organizations such as Korn Ferry and Lucas Group. She found her success in the executive recruitment of Human Resources professionals, where she can utilize her people-oriented mindset and problem solving skills to make a meaningful impact.

Sara understands the critical role HR leaders play in organizations and recognizes the immense impact that exceptional talent can have on an organization's success. Sara firmly believes that finding the right HR talent is crucial for building high-performing teams and creating positive work environments.

The decision to start her own firm, alongside her business partner David Armendariz, was driven by Sara's passion for the recruitment industry. She wants to continue to provide a distinct and personalized experience for both her clients and candidates. She also advocates for working moms and empowers women in business, and is dedicated to mentoring and fostering the professional growth of women.

Outside of work, Sara finds joy in cooking Lebanese cuisine, which celebrates her family's heritage. Sara is happily married to Dan and they have two sons, Jake and Alex (and their mischievous Goldendoodle, Luna). Sara earned her Bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Emory University in 2004. Currently residing in Cincinnati, OH, the Luther family bleeds orange and black in support of their favorite NFL team, the Bengals.
