

Meet Billy

Billy Whitaker is a creative Brand Manager at Relate Search, dedicated to enhancing the recruiting experience for employees, clients, and candidates alike. With a dynamic career spanning roles in operations, administration, and recruitment, Billy brings a wealth of expertise and a people-first approach to every initiative. His unique combination of creativity, resourcefulness, and dedication makes him a driving force behind Relate Search's brand and culture.

Before joining Relate Search, Billy honed his skills at leading firms like Korn Ferry and Lucas Group, where he built a strong foundation in recruitment and business performance. His career began at Lucas Group as an Executive Search Consultant specializing in Sales and Marketing roles. Billy quickly fell in love with the recruitment industry, drawn by the profound impact he could have on people's lives by helping them achieve their career goals. Over the years, his efforts have not only fulfilled clients' needs but also transformed candidates' lives in meaningful ways.

At Relate Search, Billy focuses on branding, marketing, and employee experience while contributing to the company's growth and reputation as an industry leader. He is particularly proud of his ability to improve processes and implement creative strategies that support the firm's mission. Billy's favorite moments come from seeing the tangible difference his work makes, whether it's placing a candidate in a life-changing role or creating a culture that inspires his colleagues.

Born in Opelousas, Louisiana, and raised in Texas, Billy studied marketing at the University of Houston. He now resides in Houston with his husband, Dom Moorman. Outside of work, Billy is an active volunteer, serving in multiple leadership roles with the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, as well as supporting organizations like the Houston Food Bank. A lover of live music, festivals, theatre, and exploring the globe, Billy's favorite travel destinations include Paris, Barcelona, and Sydney. A proud Houston Astros fan, Billy balances his professional dedication with a vibrant personal life and a commitment to giving back to his community.
